

Our helpful guide to ORNAMENTAL TREES

DUCHY of CORNWALL
NURSERY

Our range of trees covers both ornamental and also many native species for all sites large and small, including coastal areas. Also we sell potted trees which can be planted all year round, or bare-rooted for planting between November and March whilst dormant.

TREES SUITABLE FOR DAMP SITES

Amelanchier Canadensis

(Snowy Mespilus) Very similar to lamarkii. Hardy and easy to grow. Large shrub or small tree 3–4m. Leaves emerge copper-red and colour well in autumn. White flowers in spring. Moist well-drained acid soil.

Laevis 'Snow Flakes'

A lovely form with ascending branches. Large white flowers in April contrast with the new emerging copper foliage. Bronze red autumn leaf colour. Height 3–4m.

Lamarckii AGM

(Snowy Mespilus) Large shrub or small tree; 3–4m. Leaves emerge copper-red and colour well in autumn. White flowers in spring. Moist, well-drained acid soil.

NOTE - All Amelanchiers bear fruit and are sometimes called 'Juneberry'. Fruits usually red turning to black - great for garden birds.

Betula Pendula

Silver Birch. Medium sized deciduous tree. White bark colour. Any soil except shallow chalk in sun or shade. Height 9–12m.

Pendula 'Youngli'

Young's Weeping Birch. Beautiful dome-shaped small weeping deciduous tree. Any soil except shallow chalk in sun or shade. Height 6–8m.

Pterocarya Stenoptera

Cut leaf form of the Wingnut Tree. Yellow Autumn colour. Thrives in most soils including damp conditions. Forms a large branching, suckering tree. Can grow up to 20m tall. Plant in full sun or light shade. Do not plant near drains.

Quercus Palustris AGM

Fast growing, broadly conical, deciduous tree. Deeply lobed glossy green leaves which turn rich scarlet in autumn. Best in acid or neutral soils. Any situation. Height 20m.

Salix Chrysocoma

Beautiful weeping deciduous tree. Golden yellow stems and leaves. Catkins in April. Any moist soil in sun or partial shade. Fast growing. Not suitable for small gardens. Height 12–15m.

Matsudana 'Tortuosa'

Twisted form of the Willow. Strong growing. Green leaves turning yellow in the autumn. Winter interest from stems. Any moist soil in sun to part-shade. Height 10–15m.

Sorbus Aucuparia

Mountain Ash/Rowan. Familiar native deciduous tree. Pinnate leaves. Huge bunches of glossy red fruits in autumn. Autumn foliage colour. Any soil in sun or shade. Height 5–8m.

TREES WITH PENDULOUS (WEEPING) HABIT

Betula

Pendula 'Youngii'

Young's Weeping Birch. Beautiful dome-shaped small weeping deciduous tree. Any soil except shallow chalk in sun or shade. Height 6–8m.

Cotoneaster

'Hybridus Pendulus'

Striking evergreen/semi-evergreen tree. Branches weep to the ground, laden with bright red fruits in autumn/winter. Any soil in sun or shade. Grafted height 2m.

Malus

'Royal Beauty'

Flowering Crab Apple. Deciduous weeping tree with purple-red new foliage. Purple-red flowers in April–May. Small dark red fruits in autumn. Any fertile soil in sun or part shade. Height 6–8m.

Prunus

Kiku-shidare-zakura

'Cheals Weeping Cherry'

This is the classic weeping Japanese cherry. Double rose pink flowers in April. A 3m tall tree can get just as wide so allow room when planting.

'Snow Showers'

Beautiful strongly weeping, white flowered cherry. Compact and spectacular when the single white flowers open in March. Good autumn leaf colours. Height 2–2½m.

Pyrus

Salicifolia 'Pendula' AGM

Weeping Pear. Small deciduous weeping tree with silver willow-like foliage. Any fertile soil in sun or semi-shade. Height 4–5m.

Salix

Chrysocoma

Beautiful weeping deciduous tree. Golden yellow stems and leaves. Catkins in April. Any moist soil in sun or partial shade. Fast growing. Not suitable for small gardens. Height 12–15m.

TREES WITH UPRIGHT HABIT

Amelanchier

'Obelisk'

Small deciduous upright slender tree with upright branches. Young leaves coppery-red, turning dark green in summer and yellow in autumn. Profusion of large white flowers in April and May, followed in good years by edible fruits. Moist, well-drained acid soil in sun or part shade. Height after 5 years 3–4m.

Quercus Palustris 'Green Pillar'

Columnar form of the pin oak. Dark green deeply lobed leaves that have good red autumn colour. Height 7–12m.

Carpinus

Betulus 'Fastigiata' AGM

Hornbeam. Deciduous tree of broadly upright habit. Narrow as a young tree, broadening with age. Hop-like fruit clusters in autumn. Any soil, including clay and chalk. Sun or shade. Height 6–10m.

Malus

Tschonoskii

Flowering Crab Apple. Deciduous tree. Upright, conical habit with blush white flowers and small fruit. Excellent yellow, orange, purple and red autumn colour. Any fertile soil in sun or part shade. Height 10–12m.

Prunus

'Amanogawa' AGM

Flowering Cherry. Small columnar deciduous tree. Erect branches. Dense upright clusters of fragrant shell pink flowers in April. Young leaves green-bronze. Any soil in an open sunny position. Height 5–8m.

Sorbus

'Autumn Spire' AGM

Rowan. Deciduous tree of unique compact upright habit. Rich autumn foliage colour and clusters of yellow-orange fruits persisting after leaf fall. Any good soil in all situations except extreme coastal. Height 6m.

PLANTING AND STAKING GUIDE

PLANTING IN A LAWN

– If planting in a lawn, clear away a circle of turf so that grass doesn't compete with the establishment of the newly planted tree.

ADD ORGANIC MATTER

– Mix in some organic matter if the soil requires it. A dusting of mycorrhiza 'root grow' on the bottom of the planting hole is also very beneficial. It's also good to loosen the soil at the bottom of the head of the hole.

DIG SQUARE HOLES

– It's best to dig a square planting hole one and a half times the size of the root ball. A square hole will help the roots push out through the corners rather than growing in circles.

STAKING

– If staking is required, a short stake is best to allow free movement of the head of the tree which will encourage faster rooting. We supply tree stakes, strap and buckle tree ties and spiral rabbit guards.

THE TREE HUT

– Come and visit our tree hut for all your stakes, ties and tree planting essentials.
