

ROSES

All our roses are sold in containers, they have been potted during the winter. Therefore, they will not root through the pot until later in the spring. Please be especially careful when planting out your roses.

Please ask for any advice.

CARE AND MAINTENANCE

Pests and diseases

Roses can be susceptible to black spot and attack from greenfly. A program of hygiene and good husbandry can reduce or remove the need for chemicals. Please ask for advice from one of the team.

Feeding

Roses are very hungry plants and will benefit from regular feeding through the season, not just once in the spring. Incorporate generous amounts of well-rotted manure or use a general fertilizer when planting and mulch annually to keep your plants healthy. It is well recognized that well fed plants are far less prone to disease.

Pruning

The best time to prune roses in Cornwall is during January and February. Dead heading during the summer will also prolong the display of blooms on most bush varieties. Some shrub roses also give a good hip display, so be careful not to dead head.

Award of Garden Merit

Plants given the AGM by the RHS must be;

- Available to purchase
- Outstanding excellence for ornamental or other use
- Be of good constitution
- NOT require highly specialist growing conditions/care
- NOT be particularly susceptible to any pest or disease

Gold Standard

Gold standard identifies roses that are the healthiest, hardiest and bring something new to the market. This is an industry led trial by the National Institute of Agricultural Botany and the British Association Representing Breeders
